This would limit power generation. Do 2-3 sets of Smith machine power reps for about 3-8 reps per set using a weight that is somewhere between 30-80% of your one-rep max on this exercise. The goal is to not fatigue the muscles, but to maximize power development, so you stop the set long before muscle failure sets in.

$200 It has finally come time to sell this beast. We're moving somewhere that will have a club gym, and we won't have a basement to keep this in anymore. This is just a picture I stole from the interwebs. This has been a great machine, sadly hasn't gotten nearly as much use since we had kids
