It has dual USB ports capable of charging almost any portable device including iPhones, Android devices, iPads and tablets, cameras, GPS units, flashlights and more.

I have the Anker PowerPort Solar A2421 (21W), and have the exact same problem. I used it only 4 times, and on the fifth time, the light no longer comes on and the ports no longer output any power, though the entire set of panels is facing mid day direct sunlight. I take very good care of my gear, and the panel is pretty much in brand new condition.
