Bioenergy. AREVA has been active in India's renewable energy industry, supplying turnkey biomass and biogas power plants in particular. Projects include : 2 biomass plants and 3 biogas units, for a total capacity of 47 MWe.; In July 2009, AREVA concluded a "master agreement" with Astonfield to co-develop around 10 biomass plants in India, each with a capacity of 10 MWe.

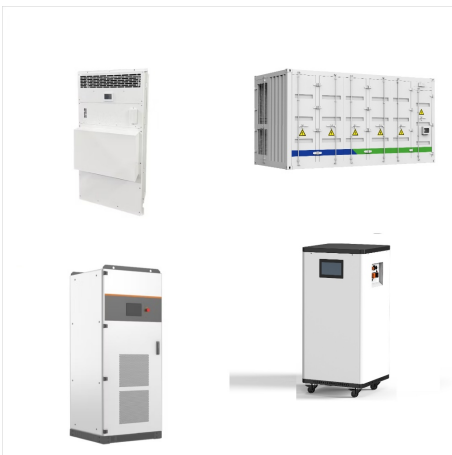

The signature of this agreement with AREVA will enable Schneider Electric to achieve grid parity for renewable energies while managing their intermittency and optimising network connection. As such, Schneider Electric, a global specialist in energy management, strengthens its unique position to connect all smart grid players
