

Specifically for Bhutan, country factsheet has been elaborated, including the information on solar resource and PV power potential country statistics, seasonal electricity generation variations, LCOE estimates and cross-correlation with the relevant socio-economic indicators. It is a part of "Global Photovoltaic Power Potential" Study, which

The first phase of Bhutan's first utility-scale solar power project at Sephu in Wangdue Phodrang is set for completion by March next year. A utility-scale solar facility generates solar power and feeds it into the grid. The 17.38-megawatt solar farm is expected to generate around 24 million units of energy annually, once operational.

Bhutan has accordingly submitted an Expression of Interest (EOI) to join seven of the nine ISA's programmes. These engagements and developments signify a shared vision between Bhutan and the ISA to embrace renewable energy solutions for a sustainable future. As the partnership strengthens, both parties are poised to achieve significant
