

Grand Power Systems offers comprehensive customization and prototyping services, ensuring that our transformers are precisely tailored to meet specific applications. Our engineers work closely with clients to develop prototypes and optimize transformer designs for optimal performance and efficiency.

Designer and manufacturer of engineered electrical products intended to serve the commercial original equipment manufacturer (OEM) and industrial end-use markets. The company offers custom transformers and inductive components built from modern computerized winding as well as test equipment and vacuum impregnation systems to the data center

Macro Magnetics LLC, formed in January by Wyoming-based RoMan Manufacturing Inc., paid $2 million to acquire the assets of Grand Power Systems Inc., a former portfolio company of Grand Rapids private equity firm Blackford Capital.

Seller: Grand Power Systems Inc. Transaction Type: Sell Side M& A. Industry: Industrials & Manufacturing. Headquarters: Grand Haven, MI. Overview: Designer and manufacturer of engineered electrical products intended to serve the commercial original equipment manufacturer (OEM) and industrial end-use markets. The company offers custom

Grand Power Systems, formerly Grand Transformers (GTI), is a manufacturer of engineered electrical products, creating solutions for the commercial OEM and industrial markets. On February 27th, 2022, Grand Power Systems was acquired by RoMan Manufacturing.