The April 2020 version (Gen 2) of the Jackery SolarSaga 100W solar panels comes with a strikingly beautiful update. Where many panels in its class are either fixed or fold several times into a briefcase, the SolarSaga just sandwiches in half and is held together by strong magnets, accented by a rigid, bright-orange carry handle across the top.

The Jackery SolarSaga 60W Solar Panel gives us the smallest, most compact version of this product yet. Other than the lower wattage output, this panel is comparable to the 100W version in pretty much every way. It has the same foldable, compact design and also features two USB ports for charging. Likewise, it's also best paired with one of
