

announced today that Kent Masters, chief executive officer, and Scott Tozier, chief financial officer, will present at the 2022 Jefferies Renewable Energy Conference in London on May 24, 2022, at 11:00 am ET .

"Any growth in renewable energy capacity has to be augmented by storage solutions," Beicke explained. "It can be hard to find storage opportunities with strong economics, but we're seeing state subsidies and mandates support the industry's growth." Ahead of this year's conference, Jefferies Insights caught up with Tommy Erdei

On the other, renewable sources don't offer the scale or reliability to meet current or future energy demand. Ralph Eads, Vice Chairman and Global Head of Energy Investment Banking at Jefferies, believes there are opportunities to build a cleaner energy system beyond simply transitioning to renewables. Ahead of this year's conference
