Gigafactories are a major opportunity for Czechia that can have a significant positive effect on the entire economy. In the near future, two battery factories could be built in the country as outlined in the latest study produced by Deloitte for the Modern Energy Union, The Development of Battery Production in Czechia.

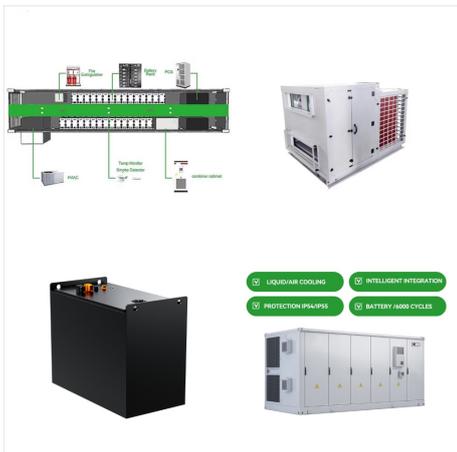

*The battery storage capacity is 10 MW and it exceeds the current largest battery in the Czech Republic by more than 40%. *The system can hold 9.45 MWh of energy, three times the size of the EZ battery in Tuřimice. *It provides power balancing services, mainly primary frequency control. *EZ wants to build 300 MW of storage capacity by 2030. EZ is gradually

The Czech Ministry of Industry and Trade is betting on the Plzeň region, in the Western part of the country, as the best location to open Czechia's first gigafactory producing batteries for electric vehicles.

The RTE of a battery can be calculated as a percentage using a simple formula shown below: $\text{Energy output} \div \text{energy input} \times 100 = \text{RTE}$. Let's demonstrate what this means in practical terms with an example. Mrs Jones installs a storage battery for her home. As she and her family typically use 10 kWh of electricity per day, she opts for a 10 kWh
