

Which planet is a real planet on Snapchat?

Like a real solar system, Mercury is the first planet of the Snapchat solar system and represents the user's first closest friend. Mercury is represented by a red planet with four 5 red hearts around it. Venus is the second planet in the solar system and corresponds to the user's second closest friend.

Does Snapchat have a solar system?

As the Snapchat solar system is a replica of our solar system, Jupiter corresponds to a user's fifth closest friend. The app uses a reddish-orange planet with dark orange strips and stars revolving around it. Similar to our solar system, Saturn is sixth from the sun and represents the user's sixth closest friend.

Does Snapchat have planets?

Snapchat has introduced a feature called Snapchat Planets. However, this feature is available only for those people who have a Snapchat+ subscription. You cannot use the Planets feature if you have a regular free Snapchat account. In the Friends Solar system, you can see what planet you are ranked as on each friend's profile.

What is a Snapchat planet & how does it work?

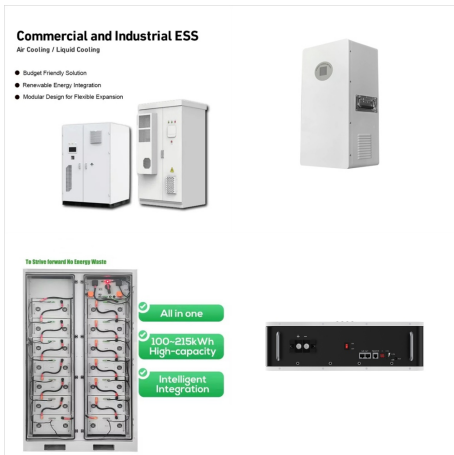

The first Snapchat Planet on the list is Mercury, and it represents the person you share the most streaks with, i.e. your best friend on Snapchat. This process works for your next eight best friends on Snapchat, meaning your top eight best friends are assigned a planet based on how close you are to them (how much you interact with them).

What does the planet Jupiter represent on Snapchat?

The planet Jupiter represents your fifth closest friend on Snapchat. This is because Jupiter is the fifth planet from the Sun in our solar system. In the Snapchat picture, Jupiter looks reddish-orange in colour. It has dark orange stripe patterns across it, just like the real planet Jupiter.

Which planets do you interact with most on Snapchat?

The person you interact with most on Snapchat is represented by the planet Mercury, which is closest to the sun in real life. From here, the second-most frequent person is represented by Venus, while the third person on the list has an Earth badge, and so on. As such, the planets of your friends in order from closest to furthest are as follows:

Saturn, positioned as the sixth planet in our solar system, is characterized by its radiant yellow appearance with stars amidst a backdrop of twinkling stars. In Snapchat's Friends Solar System, should you assume the role of the Sun while your friend represents Saturn, you will find them occupying the spot as your sixth closest friend.
